Honor to the Black and Orange!
Sing the glad refrain,
Loyal to our Alma Mater,
Ever we'll remain.

Days with her we'll e'er remember,
Though our lives be long,
Here's to her whose name we'll ever
Cherish in our song.

Refrain:

Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
All our vows renew.
Hail to thee, Northampton High School
We will all be true.

Lots of Luck to a

"It's madness, it's madness," I say
To climb those steps each day
To ramble along in a bumpy bus
And race a clock that won't wait for us.

"It's madness, it's madness," I say
To spend twelve years of life this way
To do the homework and take a test
To have teachers shouting to do your best.

"It's madness, it's madness," I say
To have a pause along life's way
But school days are, I must confess,
The stepping-stones to man's success.

Foreword

Foreward! With the help of Ben G. Bookworm, we have endeavored to illustrate our concept of the PROGRESS of the students through their Senior High School years. As the larvae slowly spins and becomes enveloped in its cocoon, so do the students become engrossed in their studies. Terminating the dormant period, the larvae will emerge from its cocoon as a beautiful butterfly ready to meet the world and fulfill its life's duties. So too, we seniors have remained within the school's enclosures becoming the products of continued study. And then we will emerge as the butterfly, spread our wings, and enter the broad world of trials and great expectations.

MR. ALBERT HENRY

Albert L. Henry, the Superintendent of Northampton Schools, is a competent leader not only in our school administration but also in the community. A conscientious worker, he performs his duties with skill and tact using as a guide his belief in mastering the basic tools of learning before proceeding with specialization. Because he is seen at most school activities and is always ready to hear any student's problems, Mr. Henry is well-liked by the students. Though this is only his second year at Northampton, he has effected many useful changes to make our school a better one.

The Board of Education

These thirteen men serve the new Northampton Area School District by acting as liaisons between the taxpayers and school administrators. The Board members are selected so a proportionately representative body exists from the seven areas comprising the District. Their tasks include the hiring of new teachers and personnel, the budgeting of moneys allotted for the school, the carrying out of state laws for school districts, and the formulating of new rules and regulations concerning our school policies. Their only emolument is the satisfaction of knowing they are partly responsible for creating an atmosphere conducive to the greatest and best of learning in our school.

Sitting: Howard Raubenhold, David Olson, Guy Rice, Albert Henry, Russell Becker, George Newhard. Standing: Joseph Smida, Joseph George, Vincent Cerciello, Woodrow Lindenmoyer, Arthur Schaffer, Carl Schmickly, Jerome Burkepale.

Administration

If you ever visit Northampton High, "Take me to your leader," invariably means take me to one of the 3 L's; Mr. Laub, Mr. Lerch, or Mr. Laubach. Mr. Laub, our principal, oversees our education during the school year. Acting as assistant to the principal, Mr. Laubach, now has administrative duties added to his schedule of advising Student Council and giving the morning announcements. Finally, there's Mr. Lerch who is Guidance Counselor. Finding jobs for students, interviewing them, getting them into college, and giving them exams occupies "Doc's" time. The 3 L's co-operate so that our school can be managed smoothly and efficiently.

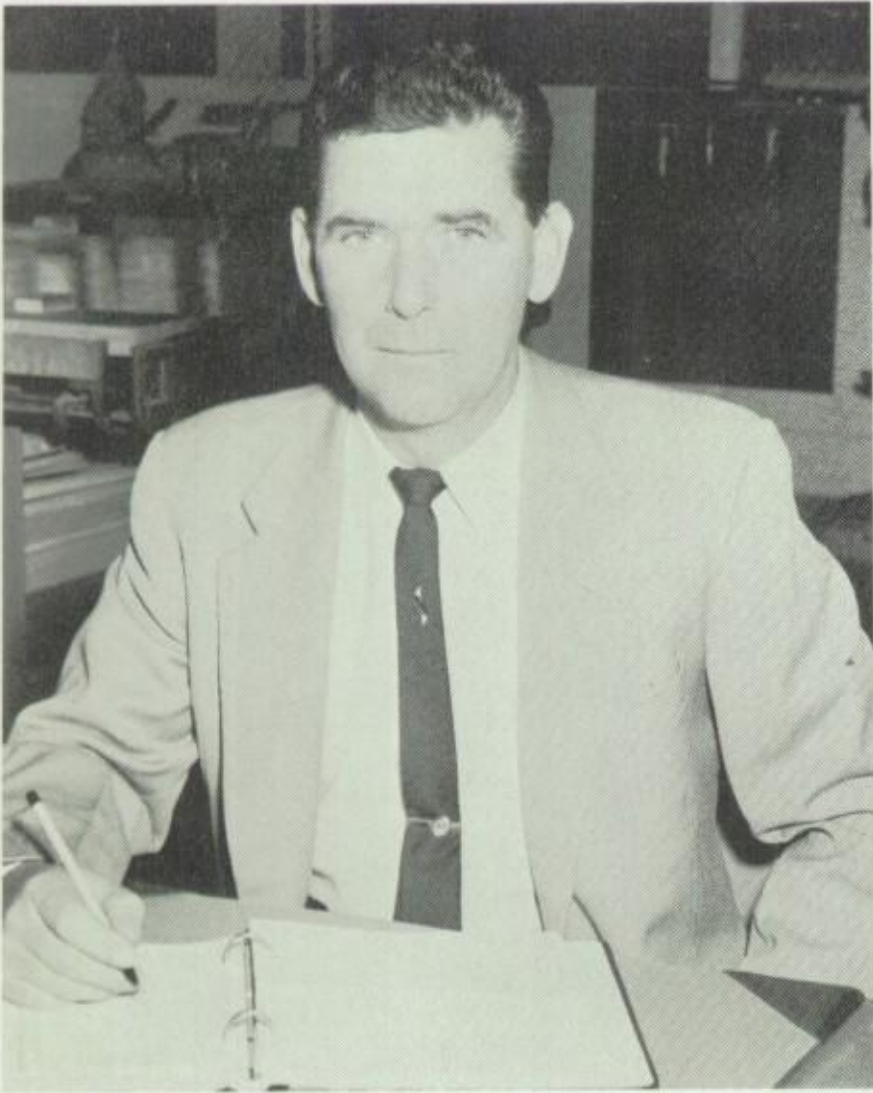

MR. NORMAN LAUB, B.S., M.A.
Principal

MR. ALBERT LERCH, B.S., M.Ed.
Guidance Counselor

MR. ALFRED LAUBACH, Ph.B., M.A.
Assistant to the Principal

MR. ALEC ERDOSY, B.S., M.A.

Mr. Alec Erdosy, our able faculty advisor, is responsible for the yearly sports program. Working in cooperation with the Athletic Council, he schedules and plans all our events in the field of sports. He also instructs woodshop classes and keeps records of the attendance of all seniors.

MRS. FLORA OBRECHT, B.A., M.A.

Need advice girls? Mrs. Obrecht, our girls' counselor, is always ready to assist. Every year she interviews each girl individually, answering all questions pertaining to their subjects. She is interested in your past record, your immediate needs, and your future plans. Our capable counselor is a friend to all when it comes to solving problems and preparing girls for the future.

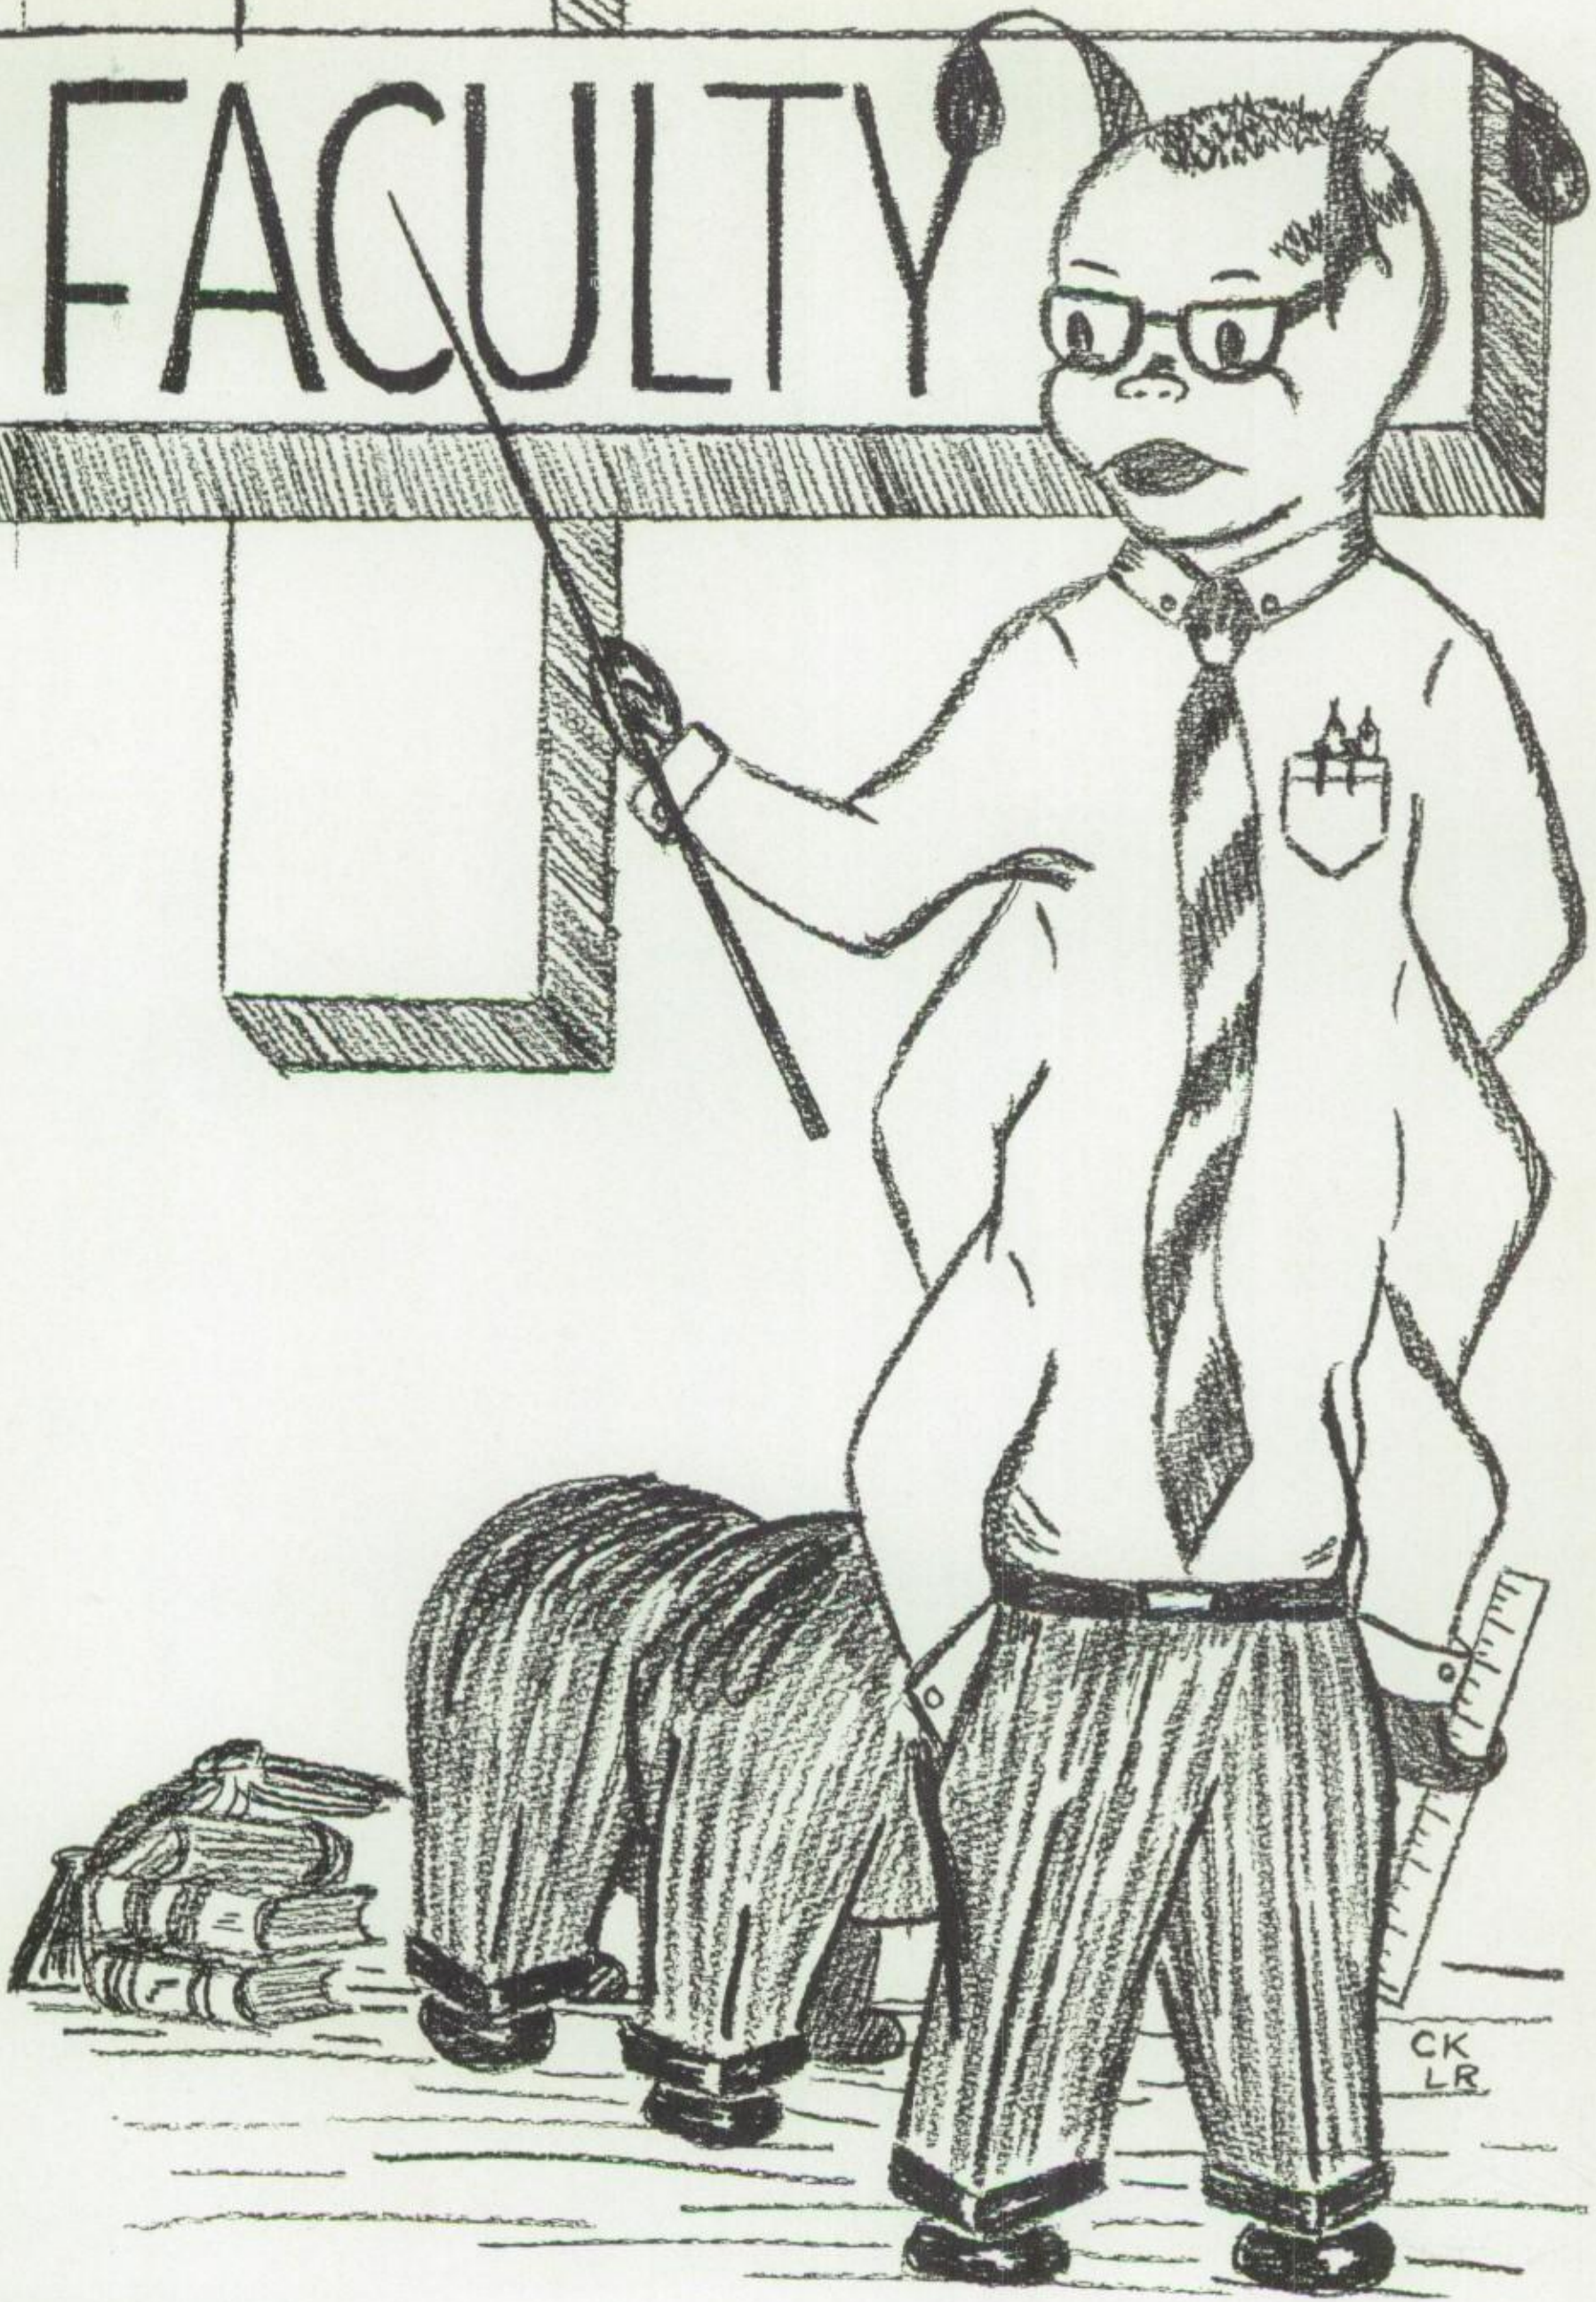

Secretaries

Joan Wunderler, Janet Kuntz, Judy Hnath

Adding grace and beauty to our High School office are our expert secretaries: Miss Janet Kuntz, Miss Joan Wunderler, and Miss Judy Hnath. Answering telephones, taking dictation, and typing reports from school executives are part of their daily routine. They also assist students coming in for all manners of excuse cards. Without these efficient girls we would have no student bulletins, absentee reports, or cheery smiles from our office.

Teachers' Activities

Our faculty displays one of their many "talents" during a benefit basketball game.

On the more serious side, Mrs. Bollman lends a hand while Mr. Henry and Mr. Sylvester casually chat over the B-E day activities.

Dr. Miller and Miss Stettler discuss a student's medical history.

Safeguarding the health of each one of our students is the task of our competent medical staff. By checking the students' eyes and ears every year they insure our physical well-being. Whether it be a sudden illness or an accident on the gym floor, we can feel at ease knowing our capable friends will provide the assistance we need.

Sitting: Isabelle Folland, Constance MacAdam, Carolyn Tarrow, Eva Lerch, Francis Ruch, Annette Smith. Standing: Theresa Ebner, Lillian Wennich, Ann Glendenmeyer, Margaret Halbfoerster, John Marchs, Leona Schell, Mary Messenlehner.

Mrs. Mary Zirinsky

Maintenance Staff

Keeping our school spick and span is the job of our able bodied maintenance staff. Keeping the building warm in winter, the walks clear of snow, and the school grounds neat and clean are the main objectives of our custodians. The cleanliness of the classrooms is due to the efforts of our house-keepers. We salute this never-tiring group for their fine work.

Cafeteria Staff

Our cafeteria staff is responsible for the well-balanced meals served to students. Because of these ladies, all the students can take a break from the day's activities to eat a hot, nourishing meal and prepare for the rest of the day's work. Our dietitian, Mrs. Mary Zirinsky, plans for each day an enjoyable and well-balanced meal.

Class Poem

This, our Senior year at last,
Brings back memories of the past.
Never before were days such fun
From morning dew till setting sun.
And if, as you receive your prize,
Large round tears should fill your eyes,
Be not shameful of your action
Since you belong to the largest faction.
Who knows what the future holds,
But being careful to set your goals
Neither too high, nor too low;
Reality from your dreams may grow.
A challenge to all who in books find
The past achievements of mankind.

JOANN GLORIA MIKO

January 18, 1946 — December 3, 1957

'Tis well the organ's solemn sighs
Should soar and sink around her rest,
And almost in her ear should rise
The prayers of those she loved the best.

Undaunted by the clouds of fear,
Undazzled by a happy day,
She made a Heaven about her here,
And took how much! with her away.

Richard Monckton Milnes

We the Senior Class of 1963 pass on to the Junior Class the responsibilities which were bestowed upon us in the fall of 1962. You Juniors will be the Seniors next year. You will be looked upon by the underclassmen for leadership and guidance. We truly hope that the members of the Junior Class will adhere to these responsibilities. We feel that the Junior Class has reached a level that will enable them to carry out their duties faithfully and adequately. The Senior Class has watched the Junior Class develop into a well-knit group, and we are confident that they will meet the challenge which we have placed before them.

As you are christened "Seniors" next year in the fall of 1963, you will have then reached the plateau of your scholastic career. Do not shirk your responsibilities, but lead the underclassmen capably. In conclusion, the Seniors wish to the Juniors great success as they shoulder their new title, "Seniors."

CLASS MOTTO

"They Can Conquer Who Believe They Can"

In this, our Junior year at school,
We've endeavored to do our best;
Assistance we have always given,
The hope we'll pass the test.

We've had enjoyable social affairs,
In which we all took part;
The Speaking Contest — a big success,
Our new class rings — very smart.

And so this year is past and gone,
Just where, 'tis hard to tell;
But it has been a profitable one,
And lots of fun, as well.

Message To The Sophomores

The class of 1964 extends a hearty welcome to you who have put aside the happy and carefree junior high days to venture forth into these strange halls and meet the challenge of senior high school.

We trust the adjustment to the new subjects, teachers, and schedules was made with the least amount of difficulty, and that you are now enjoying your new scholastic life in addition to taking part in the many extra-curricular activities which are offered to you.

To you who will take our place on the eleventh rung of the ladder in the coming year go our best wishes for continued growth in wisdom, and our sincere desire for your continued co-operation and participation during your remaining years at NASHS.

SENIOR SUBJECTS

ENGLISH

LITERATURE

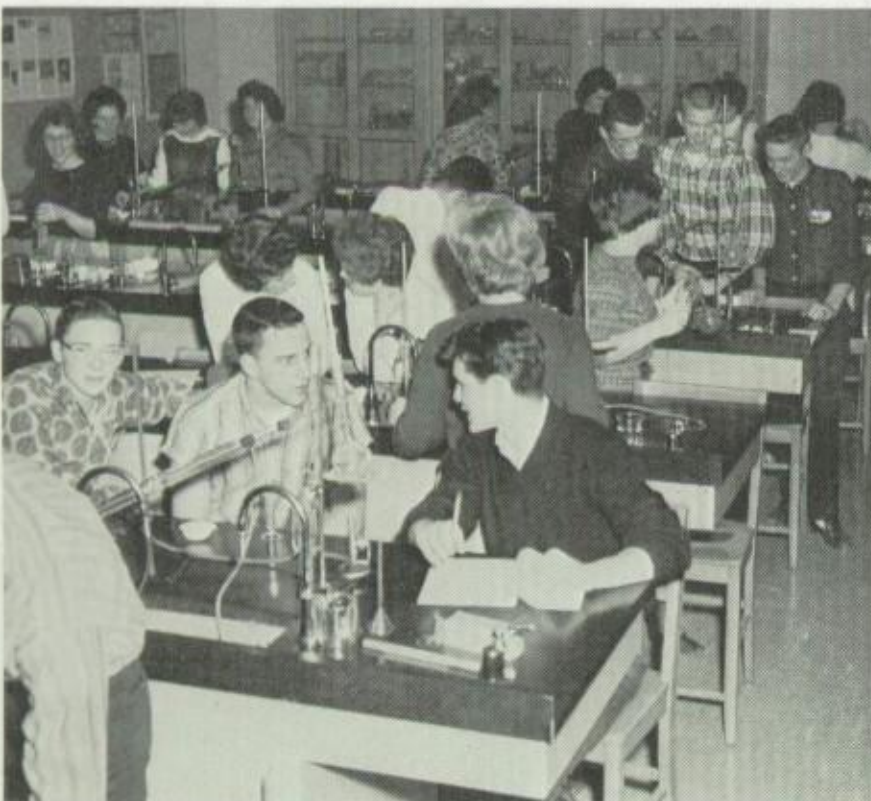

"And in this corner, Peoria, Illinois," Mr. Merkle informs his tenth grade geography class.

Mr. Kindt expatiates on the principles of wave machines.

Seniors say, "Oh, what fun and fumes we have in chem. class."

Science

The applied uses of science make our world a more enjoyable place to inhabit. Experiments and formulae lead to practical products for our fast-moving society. These future products will be created by students now in our chemistry, physics, earth science, and physical science classes.

Chemistry class, taught by Mr. Frailey, is filled with valences, atomic numbers, formulae, symbols, and experiments with pungent odors, brilliant colors, and fizzing gases! Though they may never be Curie's, chem students do their best to emulate those who have made feasible modern theories of ionization, nuclear structure, and the conservation of energy.

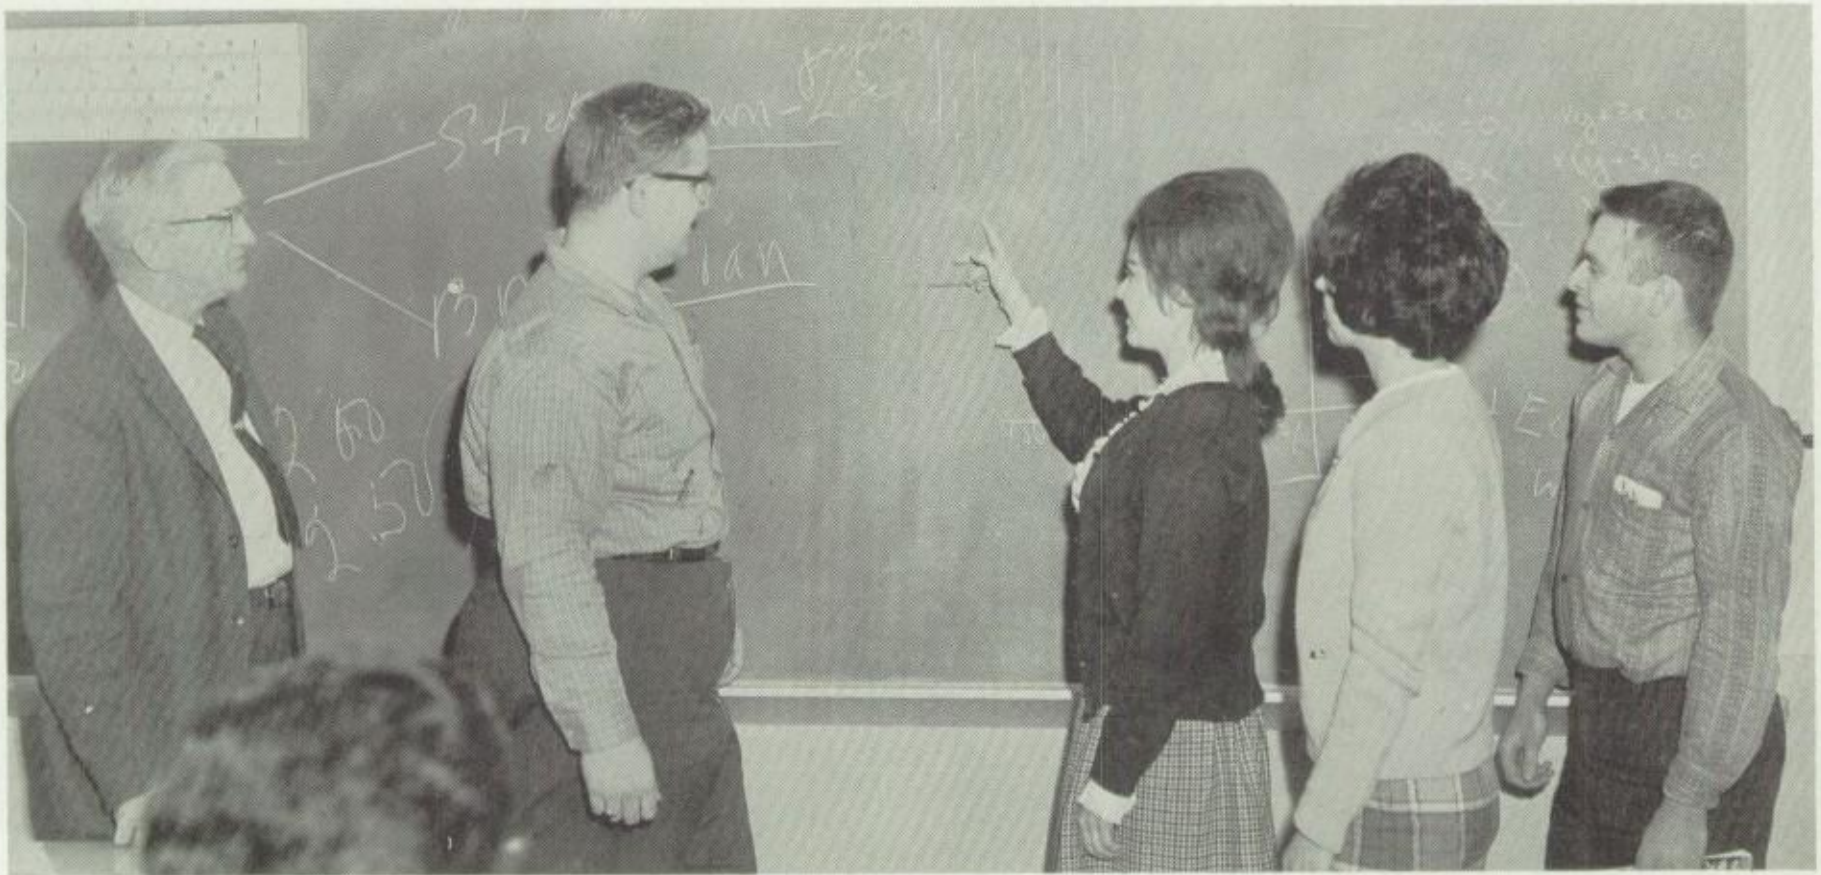

Mr. R. Snyder has a double assignment. He is responsible for earth science and physics classes. Earth science encompasses subjects from stars to rocks. Physics, the study of the principles and laws of inanimate objects of our world, includes studies of stationary objects, theories of waves, and vector diagrams.

The physical science course is directed by Mr. Balliet and Mr. Kindt, who also has physics classes. This part of the science curricula takes in the study of electricity, leverage, geology, and the universe.

Geography is Mr. Merkle's specialty. This course incorporates studies of natural land barriers, continents, rivers, lakes, and oceans into one complete study of our earth's surface areas.

Future scientists, under Mr. R. Snyder's direction, study the earth's revolutions.

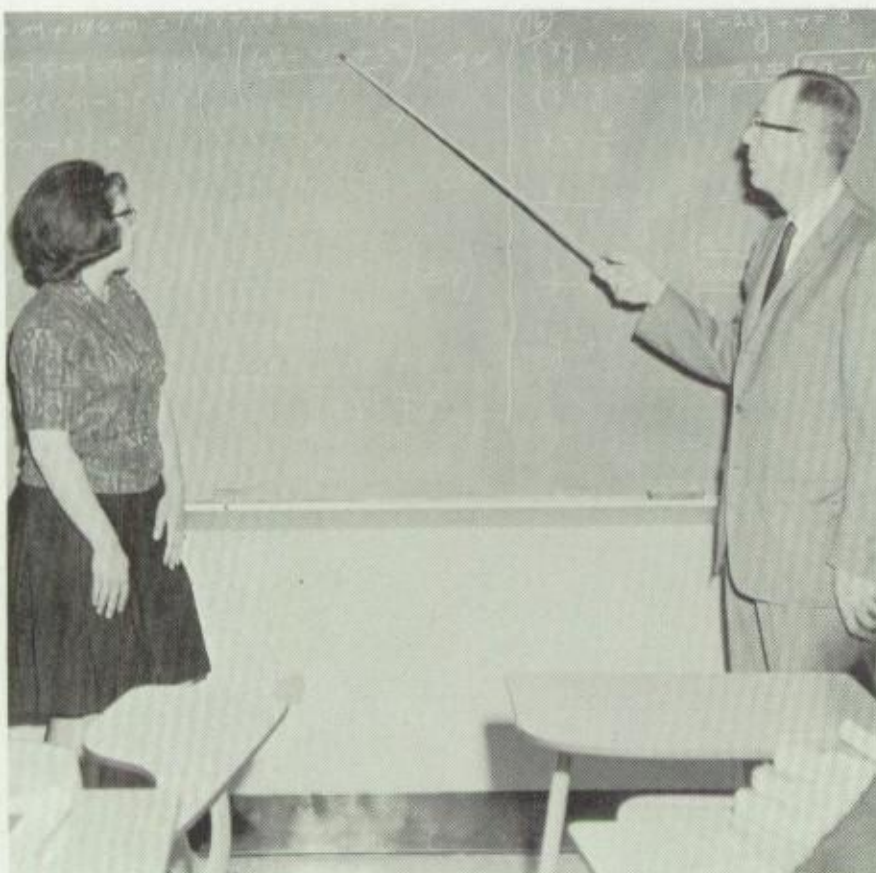

Mr. Weir says, Your stocks are bound to go up if you take the advice of our seniors.

Mathematics

Mathematics is the tool of the future. It is the basis for progress in the fields ranging from nuclear sciences to astro-dynamics. A stepped-up program in our present high school mathematics will cultivate the interest of students and induce them to enter advanced technological fields. Under the guiding hands of Mr. Fegley and Mr. Lindenmuth, this will be achieved.

In addition to advanced mathematics, there is a need for everyday business math. Mr. Weir and Mr. Kindt provide this fact and figure knowledge for their working students.

Mr. Fegley says, "It goes in, goes out, and so — far into the night." to two puzzled mathematicians.

"If you use the correct trig function, you're bound to get it," says Mr. Lindenmuth.

Mr. Lisetski helps his scholars with another "International."

"Pickett's charge determined Gettysburg's outcome," Mr. Kressley informs budding historians.

Social Studies

To understand the present, we must consult the past and learn from its errors. Mr. Witemeyer and Mr. Druckenmiller season the sophomores with World Cultures Class, teaching them to interpret relations between past and present times.

Mr. Pany and Mr. Kressley explore the subject of American History with their junior classes. With continued study, these juniors come to understand American principles, ideologies, and ideals.

Democracy, a government of, by, and for the people, and its problems are the focal point of discussion in Mr. Lisetski's P.O.D. classes. Understanding functions and duties of local, state, national, and international affairs gives the pupil an excellent background for understanding this complex world.

Psychology, the study of human behavior, is for the student interested in learning more about the how's and why's of his life. Under the direction of Mr. Schneider, students learn about their development from infancy to adulthood, in a course well supplemented by motion pictures. Its prime objective though is to produce well-rounded individuals who can live happily in our constantly-moving, complicated society.

Rio de Janiero was the capital of Brazil. Mr. Druckenmiller asks, "Where is its new capital located?"

Write, listen and write is Mr. Pany's advice to his students.

"Schizophrenia, with Paranoia tendencies, can't be caused by too much homework," Mr. Schneider assures worried observers.

"Only your fingers, not your noses," advises Mrs. Geiger in another timed test.

"Greek? No, it's Greg's method!" Mrs. Hallman answers confused amanuenses.

Secretarial

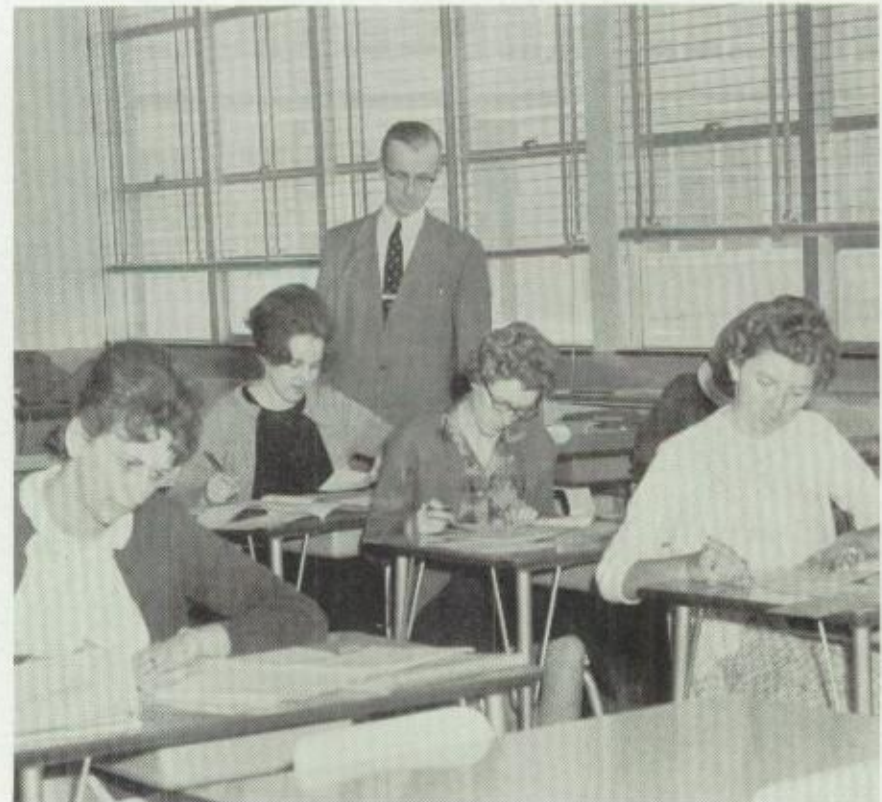

Typing, shorthand, bookkeeping — these are the subjects which make up the schedule of our secretarial students. Trying to obtain their goals of speed and accuracy, our future secretaries work diligently. With shorthand, the abbreviated language of secretaries, our scribes learn to perform fast, accurate work. While studying bookkeeping, they are taught to balance budgets, keep records, and carry out any other necessary office tasks. Training in the use of office machines, including filing and payroll, aids in giving our future secretaries the experience needed to become assets to any business world.

Mrs. Geiger and Mrs. Hallman instruct these students in typing and shorthand, while Mr. Schneck handles the bookkeeping and office machine problems.

"Plug it in — it will work much better!" Mr. Schneck advises Theresa.

"Remember those receipt and expenditures are supposed to balance," advises Mr. Schneck.

Despite Mr. Gunkle's help, William Wordsworth and Robert Burns can become uninteresting at times!

Herr Roney says, "Dast est Berlin."
(As if his linguists did not know!)

Languages

Occasionally a beat, beat of a drum may be heard as one passes Senor Younes' class. He has incorporated these lessons with regular Spanish grammar and recitation. Cultural readings, grammar, and tapes are offered by Herr Roney to give a true picture of Germany and its language. Frequent melodic sounds can be heard drifting from his room into nearby halls. Mademoiselle Laubach asks her students, "Parlez-vous francais?" Besides the grammatical part of this course, singing offers an interesting break. Last of all, the most important language of our society, English, is taught by Mr. Gunkle, Mr. Wall, Mrs. Baiman, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Hauke, Mrs. Obrecht, and Miss Laubach. They manage to acquaint their students with English and American literature, grammar, composition, and vocabulary studies.

"Que pasa?" It's Senor Younes' new Spanish language lab.

"Are all French sentences this hard to translate?"
inquire these students.

"So that's what makes me jump!" Brian exclaims as Mr. Oplinger explains the nerve cells.

"Hearts!" says Mrs. Baiman. "Yes, even teachers have them."

Health & Physical Education

"The radius and the ulna comprise the forearm, and — ". That is a sample of what goes on in the boys' and girls' health classes under the direction of Mr. Oplinger and Mrs. Baiman, respectively. Learning about how and why the body works as it does is the assignment for the year.

"Touch those toes, climb to that rafter, sink it for two more," are a few of the cries you hear emanating from the gym. Held twice weekly, these classes, give students a needed break from classroom routine. Miss Kremus and Mr. Al Erdosy instruct them so students learn to perform feats which will benefit their physical fitness.

Miss Kremus and Claudia assist with a handstand while the group watches in amazement.

Almost over — with a little added push he'll make it!

Mrs. Huber wonders if they will ever be tomorrow's homemakers.

A little less inking and much more thinking will produce better products!

Electives

Another Mona Lisa in the making? Only Mr. Kleppinger knows the real truth.

Mr. Erdosy wonders whose home this piece of craftsmanship will adorn in the future.

Rimski-Korsakov never had our music suite or theory course!

Student Council

Members preparing Student Council bulletin board in the main lobby.

Comprised of delegates from each homeroom, the Student Council represents student participation in school government. Under the leadership of Mr. Alfred Laubach, advisor, and Robert Oplinger, president, the Council endeavors to improve school pride and spirit by displaying posters throughout the school, by sponsoring pep rallies, and by soliciting patrons for the Northampton-Catty Program. Members also act as guides for various allied school activities.

To add to school activities the Council sponsors a Valentine Record Hop and Spring Semi-formal in the gymnasium. The members are also responsible for packing Red Cross boxes which are sent to foreign nations.

By performing these many projects well, the Council strives to better themselves as well as the entire student body.

National Honor Society

Fifteen percent of the Senior Class comprises the oldest school organization, National Honor Society. The merits of a member are scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Miss Marion Laubach, the advisor, helps the members to better these qualities. President Carol Weidman presides over meetings which are held, whenever necessary, in members' homes. The Society maintains its high standards of academic achievement by sponsoring a tutoring system.

Anyone for a booster tag or rah-rah shaker!!!

N-Club

The N-Club is responsible for promoting school spirit which is of deep concern at N. H. S. Under the direction of Harry Witemeyer and President Wayne Gossler, the N-Club, meeting Thursday first period, sponsors the sale of booster tags for all sports events. Chartering rooter buses for away football games is another of their projects. The N-Club, due to the enthusiasm they create, contributes to the success of many school activities.

Photography Club

The Photo Club, under the direction of Mr. John Frailey, advisor, and Charles Humphrey, president, is responsible for capturing in pictures the events of the school year. The Club prints the pictures for Amptennian, the Concrete Courier, and any interested students. As a school project, the Photo Club takes the homeroom pictures for the yearbook. No matter what the event, our "Northampton shutterbugs" are there, camera in hand. These flash-bulb happy photographers are busy all year long learning the fundamentals of photography. Photo Club provides excellent experience for those students interested in photography as a future vocation or avocation. Carefully those precious negatives are developed because they know "a picture is worth a thousand words," "practice makes perfect," and "good picture-taking today will make our yearbook a finer book for tomorrow."

German Club

"Guten Morgen" is the familiar phrase with which Mr. Arthur Roney, advisor, begins another session of German Club. President David Rowland leads them every Friday morning first period as they work, plan, and prepare for their future projects. Behind all this diligence can be detected a definite purpose: to present assemblies for the "Evening in Germany" and correspondence with German students.

Science & Math

Hear the turning of wheels and grinding of gears? It's Mr. Snyder's Science and Math Club deep in thought concerning a problem in science. Where could our future Einsteins and Galileos get better training than in this club with Eugene Mirro as its president. So think hard, ye members of Science and Math Club, and try to solve the deep mysteries of our universe!

Delta-Tri-Hi-Y

The Delta Tri-Hi-Y, under the supervision of Mrs. Bollman and President Nanette Dech, has undertaken various charitable projects this year. Using "service" as their watchword, they present gifts to needy families at Christmas and Easter. Two special features of the organization include the presentation of scrapbooks to the Osteopathic Hospital and the making of stuffed animals for the Good Shepherd Home. A successful Harvest Moon Dance, with Northampton's top D. J., Bob Onuschak, was sponsored by the girls. Our ladies of service, the Tri-Hi-Y, have always carried out their purpose, "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

Tri-Hi-Y members busily prepare the club scrapbook.

Amptennian Staff

Who did it? We did! After months of hard work and fun too, the product of our labors is completed — "The 1963 Amptennian." The Art Staff, under Mr. Melvin Kleppinger's watchful eye, created Ben G. Bookworm as a guide for you through this book. The Photography Staff, guided by Mr. John Frailey and prodded by Layout Staff, took the pictures which enhance our Amptennian's pages. Literary Staff, with Mr. Gunkle's critical assistance, wrote messages, captions, and senior write-ups. These were sent to the Secretarial Staff who typed the Literary Staff's creations. Finally Layout Staff, armed with pictures, write-ups, rulers, and paper, assembled the whole "work of genius"! To the printers it goes — another completed Amptennian. But with head, hand, and hard work the job is not complete. The Business Staff, with chief banker Mrs. Geiger, solicits patrons who help forward the monetary end of our publication.

Band

One and two and three — and our band is on its way to another halftime routine. Under the direction of Mr. Raymond Becker and his assistant, Mr. Robert Heim, the black and orange music-makers present a picturesque scene as they march down the gridiron in perfect step to snappy tunes.

As spring comes, the band is seen practicing diligently for the annual spring concert. The dance band entertains us at the Senior Class Play and the Junior Speaking Contest. You can find our marching band at any parade in the Lehigh Valley.

Colorguard

Present arms! This command is familiar to the flag bearers, the vanguards of the band. These martial girls work diligently to perform in parades and on the gridiron. Their efforts, followed by success, were accredited to the entire band front. With Joann Snyder as Colorguard Sergeant, these girls have shown precision in executing their drills. An illustration of their rewards for toil is the third place trophy which was won in the Boyertown Competition of Bands.

Cheerleaders

By tumbling, jumping, and shouting 'til the stands resound with cheers to convey enthusiasm to the boys playing on the gridiron or court, these energetic girls really expend their energy. Looking pert and pretty in their new black and orange jumpers, our good-will ambassadors greet all challengers. Miss Joan Kremus, coach, and Jane Oplinger, captain, work to perfect our "N.H.S. Nine" at all games in all kinds of weather.

Majorettes

Sharp, high stepping, and baton twirling describe our comely majorettes. As part of the band front these girls can be proud of their efforts in securing the trophy at Boyertown band competition. With Anna Marie Erschen, head majorette, and Elaine Reenock, drum majorette, setting the pace, our majorettes achieved their deserving reward.

Concrete Courier

Another deadline to meet! Mr. Harry Wall and his able-bodied staff, headed by Carol Weidman and Sally Wetherhold, work frantically to complete the next edition of the "Courier". Room 213, where the staff meets on Thursday and Friday mornings, is a scene of diligent work. Write, rewrite, draw, layout and it's finished. Page one — school news and big events; page two — interesting editorials; page three — more news and the hilarious "Konkrete Korn"; page four — sports jargon and schedules. Another edition of the "Concrete Courier" is ready for the press and then delivered to all homerooms.

ACTIVITIES

Crews

Christmas Vespers, Senior Class Play, Spring Concert, and all other activities would be incomplete without the capable students who work behind the scenes. The lighting crew, under the competent direction of Mr. Harry Witemeyer, sets the mood for the occasion. Mr. Edgar Balliet and his projection crew preview and show the movies we see in assembly; in addition to this, they are assistants in classroom projection. Audio-visual aids are an important feature in our education. Without the work of our back stage crew, activities would be far less interesting.

Assemblies

The student body enjoyed many fine and varied assemblies throughout the year.

Mr. David Gordan regaled the student body with tales of his exciting adventures on his trips to the Canadian wilderness. Our band, under the direction of Mr. Becker, entertained with a well presented concert of varied music. Our fine drummer, Sherwood Silfies, displayed his talents. Tex Chambers showed us the capabilities of his trained dogs, as one of them goes through his routine. The animal performed this neat trick, and then went on to tear some shirts. These assemblies were well received by the entire school.

"He flies through the air with the greatest of ease."

The last minute touch-up before performance.

"I have my reward right here!"

"Oh no you don't!" shouts Liz as she plunges forward.

"But the button is on My pants!", cries Bob.

"Get that insecticide out of here Amelia, my husband hates the smell of perfume," says Liz.

"I didn't land on my NECK!" cries Bob, as Connie tries to soothe Mable.

To begin with, the chair was not for sale, but it would be Bob Harding's luck to have it sold to him by mistake and find himself involved in a ring of smart smugglers who employ the upholstery in chairs as a cache for transporting world-famous paintings looted from the Louvre during the last war. It all happened quite gradually. Mable, Bob's young wife, anticipating a sizeable inheritance from her Aunt Claudie's will, joins the popular Collectors' Club and takes to collecting antiques displayed at the new antique shop operated by a Mrs. Hipple while her younger sister, Connie, is settling the aunt's estate. Bob is furious because his living room is beginning to look like a museum with Mable's collection. As the play opens, Mable has graduated to antique furniture. Connie arrives to make her home with Mable and Bob and to forget Homer, her home-town Romeo who is too firmly knotted to his mother's apron strings to be a matrimonial prospect. Mable comes home with a new chair which is left in the hall and raves over its magnificent antique features. Bob wanders into the hall, sits on it and "CRASH!" it collapses into a pile of kindling. Mable is livid, insists upon Bob replacing it immediately. She is so demanding Bob gives in and goes to the new shop for another chair. When he returns with one, Mable's appraising eye discounts it as an antique, but Stella, Mrs. Hipple's clerk, arrives on the scene and pleads with Bob to return the chair. It is "not for sale," she claims and tries to return Bob's check. He refuses to accept it and informs Stella he will return the chair if Mrs. Hipple will buy back all of the "JUNK" she has sold to his wife. Mable hits the ceiling and declares a cold war. Bob's ultimatum proves to be more than he had bargained for, and when he holds to his terms the smugglers move in on him. Homer, hoping to change Connie's mind, arrives in time to be mixed in the fracas as do Liz Carter, a button collector and Amelia Sinker, a perfume shaker. It is their hobbies and Connie's Romeo who turn the tide of affairs in the Harding living room and drop a $25,000 reward into Bob's lap.

"Twenty-four hours; that's all!" warns Barry Strum.

Senior Christmas Party

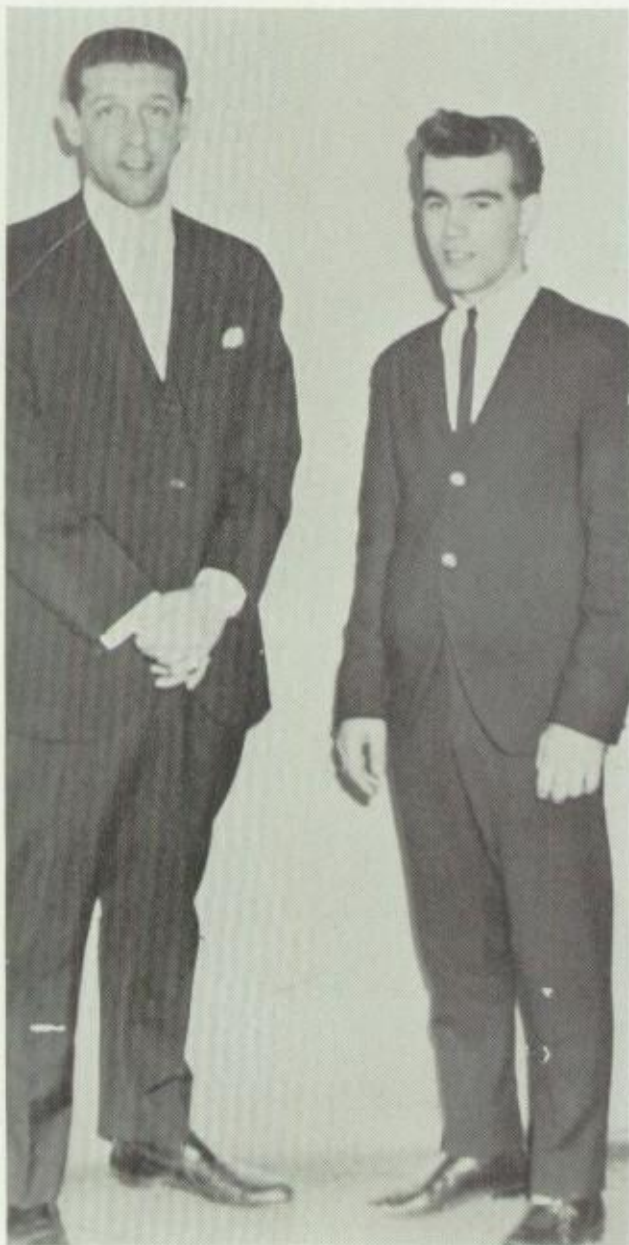

At the annual Senior Christmas Party everyone enjoyed himself immensely, dancing to the music provided by Alan Borda's records and eating delicious refreshments. Exhibitions by skilled "twisters" and "limbo-ists" added to the fun. The evening climaxed as our senior "deers" got a workout pulling Santa Claus (alias Tom Marakovits) into the gym on his sleigh. The gifts received gave hearty laughs and a few red faces. Along with presents and souvenir decorations, everyone carried home many "moments to remember."

Snow White and the Seven Pistons regale the Seniors with their versions of "409" and "Loop-de-Loop."

Santa and his eight "tiny" reindeer.

Winter Dances

Hear the music? - - - It's the Tri-Hi-Y's "Harvest Moon Dance." Hosts Jay Sands, Gene Kay, and Robert Onuschak with the Tri-Hi-Y's assistance made the night one to remember. Robert Oplinger and Jane Oplinger reigned as King and Queen for the extravaganza. Delicious refreshments, dreamy waltzes, hot twists, and pretty pumpkins made this dance one which all seniors, juniors, and sophomores will remember.

November time — Turkey Day Games! For the first time, we had our own Victory Dance. The swinging affair sponsored by National Honor Society, was well-attended by students, friends, and alumni. A tumultuous victory that morning, despite all the mud, set the rollicking mood for that evening. Gay and festive Kids, not really hard-hearted, did not spare one minute to sympathize for defeated Catty.

Gene Kay and Bobby Onuschak take time out from D.J. duties to pose for our cameraman.

Special guests Gene Kay and Jay Sands crown Harvest King and Queen (Robert Oplinger and Jane Oplinger) as "Helpful" Bob looks on.

Mixed Chorus

Mixed chorus under the direction of Mrs. Thelma Santee, is comprised of all the student vocalists who participate in choral presentations. The smaller choral groups are all a part of mixed chorus. A talented group of 30 girls, the Girls' Ensemble entertain not only the student body but also outside groups. Mixed ensemble involves 7 boys and 7 girls who enjoy harmonizing together. The boy's octet of underclassmen specialize in harmonizing barbershop style. Tenth-grade girls' chorus complete the organization. These promising vocalists will complement the mixed chorus in following years.

Let us have music for Christmas . . .
Sing out the carols of old,
Rejoice in the birth of the Christ Child,
The most wonderful story e'er told.

Sing of the star and wise men, too,
And angels watching above . . .
Bring once again to the homes of men
The gift of wondrous love.

Let us have music for Christmas . . .
Sound the trumpet of joy and rebirth
Let each of us try, with a song in our hearts,
To bring peace to men on earth.

Girls' Gym Team

Precision and perfection are the key words in this year's Girls' Gym Team. Under the direction of Miss Kremus, the new girls are taught skills on the horse, Swedish box, rings, uneven parallel bars, and the trampoline. Agility is put to the test in calisthenic drills, in wand exercises, and in locker-room antics! Their long, strenuous hours of practice are justified when the girls display their talents in the Annual Gym Exhibition.

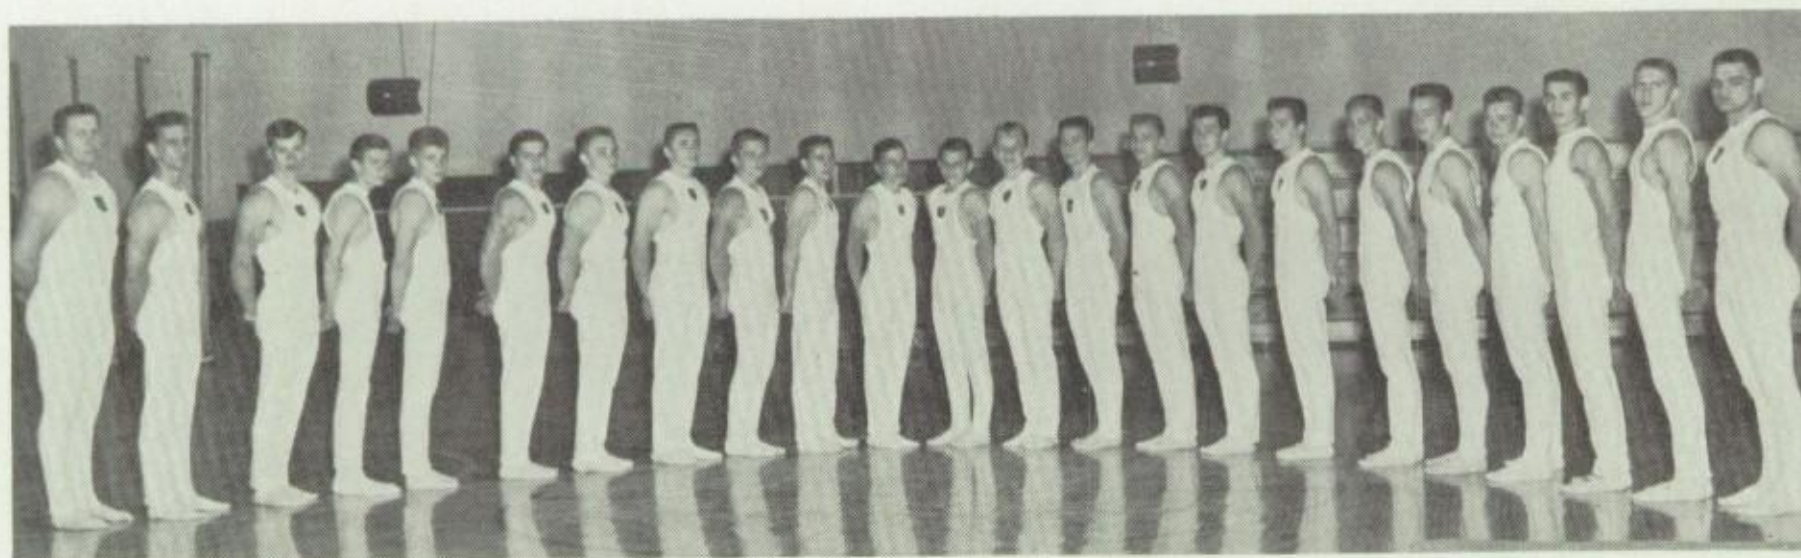

"Frank falls head over heels."

"Point your toes and smile."

Boys' Gym Team

A set of parallel bars, a high bar, a trampoline — any type of gym equipment and the atmosphere is set for our talented Boys' Gym Team. Challenge them to do something and before you realize it, these ingenious boys have it perfected beyond your grandest expectations. Sessions are held first period on Thursday and Friday, with additional hours of work after school, under the competent direction of Mr. Erdosy and Mr. Oplinger. Displays of masculine agility and dexterity at the Annual Gym Exhibition are their products created from toil, training, and tremendous fun.

Science Fair

At our own Science Fair and the Lehigh Valley Science Fair, at Muhlenberg, junior scientists have a chance to display the projects which they have worked on and perfected over the preceding months. Many interesting exhibits in such fields as chemistry, astronomy, biology, anatomy, and electronics are displayed by the students all eager to become the Grand Champion. With these students as tomorrow's scientists, mathematicians, and engineers, we can be sure our country will be in good hands.

Football

The Konkrete Kids opened the 1962 football season with an exciting game against P-Burg. They rolled over Emmaus, Whitehall and Slatington until they yielded to the pressure of the Palmerton Blue Bombers in an 0-13 decision. Recovering quickly, the Kids took Lehigh, Nazareth and Stroudsburg. The annual Thanksgiving Day battle thwarted the expectations of the Roughies as the Kids rallied to an anticipated victory of 9-0. The Kids finished the league season with a 6 for 7 record, tying Emmaus for the League Championship.

Seniors included on the squad were: Rich Sickonic, Dave Christof, Bob Oplinger, "Beatty" Eberhardt, Ron Ondrejca, Dave Ware, George Sodl, Tom Unger, Bob Flyte, Curt Moyer, and Jon Hall.

The Konkrete Kids, led by Gerry Eberhardt and Rich Sickonic, finished the season with a 5 for 14 league record. The basketekers were off to a slow start losing the first six games then winning against Coplay in a non-league game, 68-62. Again the Kids fell back into the rut and lost the next six league games. The Blue Bombers of Palmerton then fell victims to the Kids in a 55-52 struggle. The Kids went on to rally against Lehigh, 64-49, Stroudsburg, 56-38, Emmaus, 84-71, and Whitehall, 51-38. Gerry Eberhardt finished the season with 275 overall points; Rich Sickonic, 244; Don Eickhoff, 184; Gary Mooney, 154; Mike Lisetski, 143; and Frank Csenits, 100.

The junior basketekers were less fortunate and finished the season with a 2 for 21 record. Joe Wargo led the squad with 136 over all points.

Wrestling

With the loss of three district champs and six other starters, Coach Harry Wall faced a tremendous rebuilding job. The team, led by seniors Dan Schlegel, Dan Creyer, Wayne Gossler, Bob Minnich, Bob Flyte, Earl Rice, and Jim Gontar, did a creditable job. They nailed down third place in the Western Division of the Lehigh Valley Wrestling League with a 5-2 record. Dave Wall and Jim Gon-tar were District 11 champs at 123 pounds and heavyweight respectively. They also won Northeast Regional crowns while Dave went on to gain second place in the state finals at Penn State. Harry Wall, assisted by Steve Micio and Al Hoffman, look forward to a good season next year because of eight returning lettermen.

Track

Our track team was hard hit by graduation. They lost seven high scoring seniors of the 1962 squad. The team, hampered by lack of experience and natural talent, was unable to win any major titles or compete effectively for the league title. Earl Rice, competing in the shot put and discus events, was the high scorer for the team. Lahovski, Spanitz, and Heydt won several of the running events in various meets. Coach Richard Reimer, assisted by Harry Wall, is confident of improving this young team for next year. This year's team posted a 1-9 won-lost record.

Commencement

Graduation — the end of years of fun
And work and studies and prizes won.
Reflecting upon the twelve years past,
We have memories that long will last.
Commencement - beginning - the world lies before,
But not alone, we pass through the door.
From high school days the knowledge we take
Will gird us with strength for the tasks which await.

We had a good time, too!

We could have danced all night.

King Arthur and Queen Joan make a majestic couple.

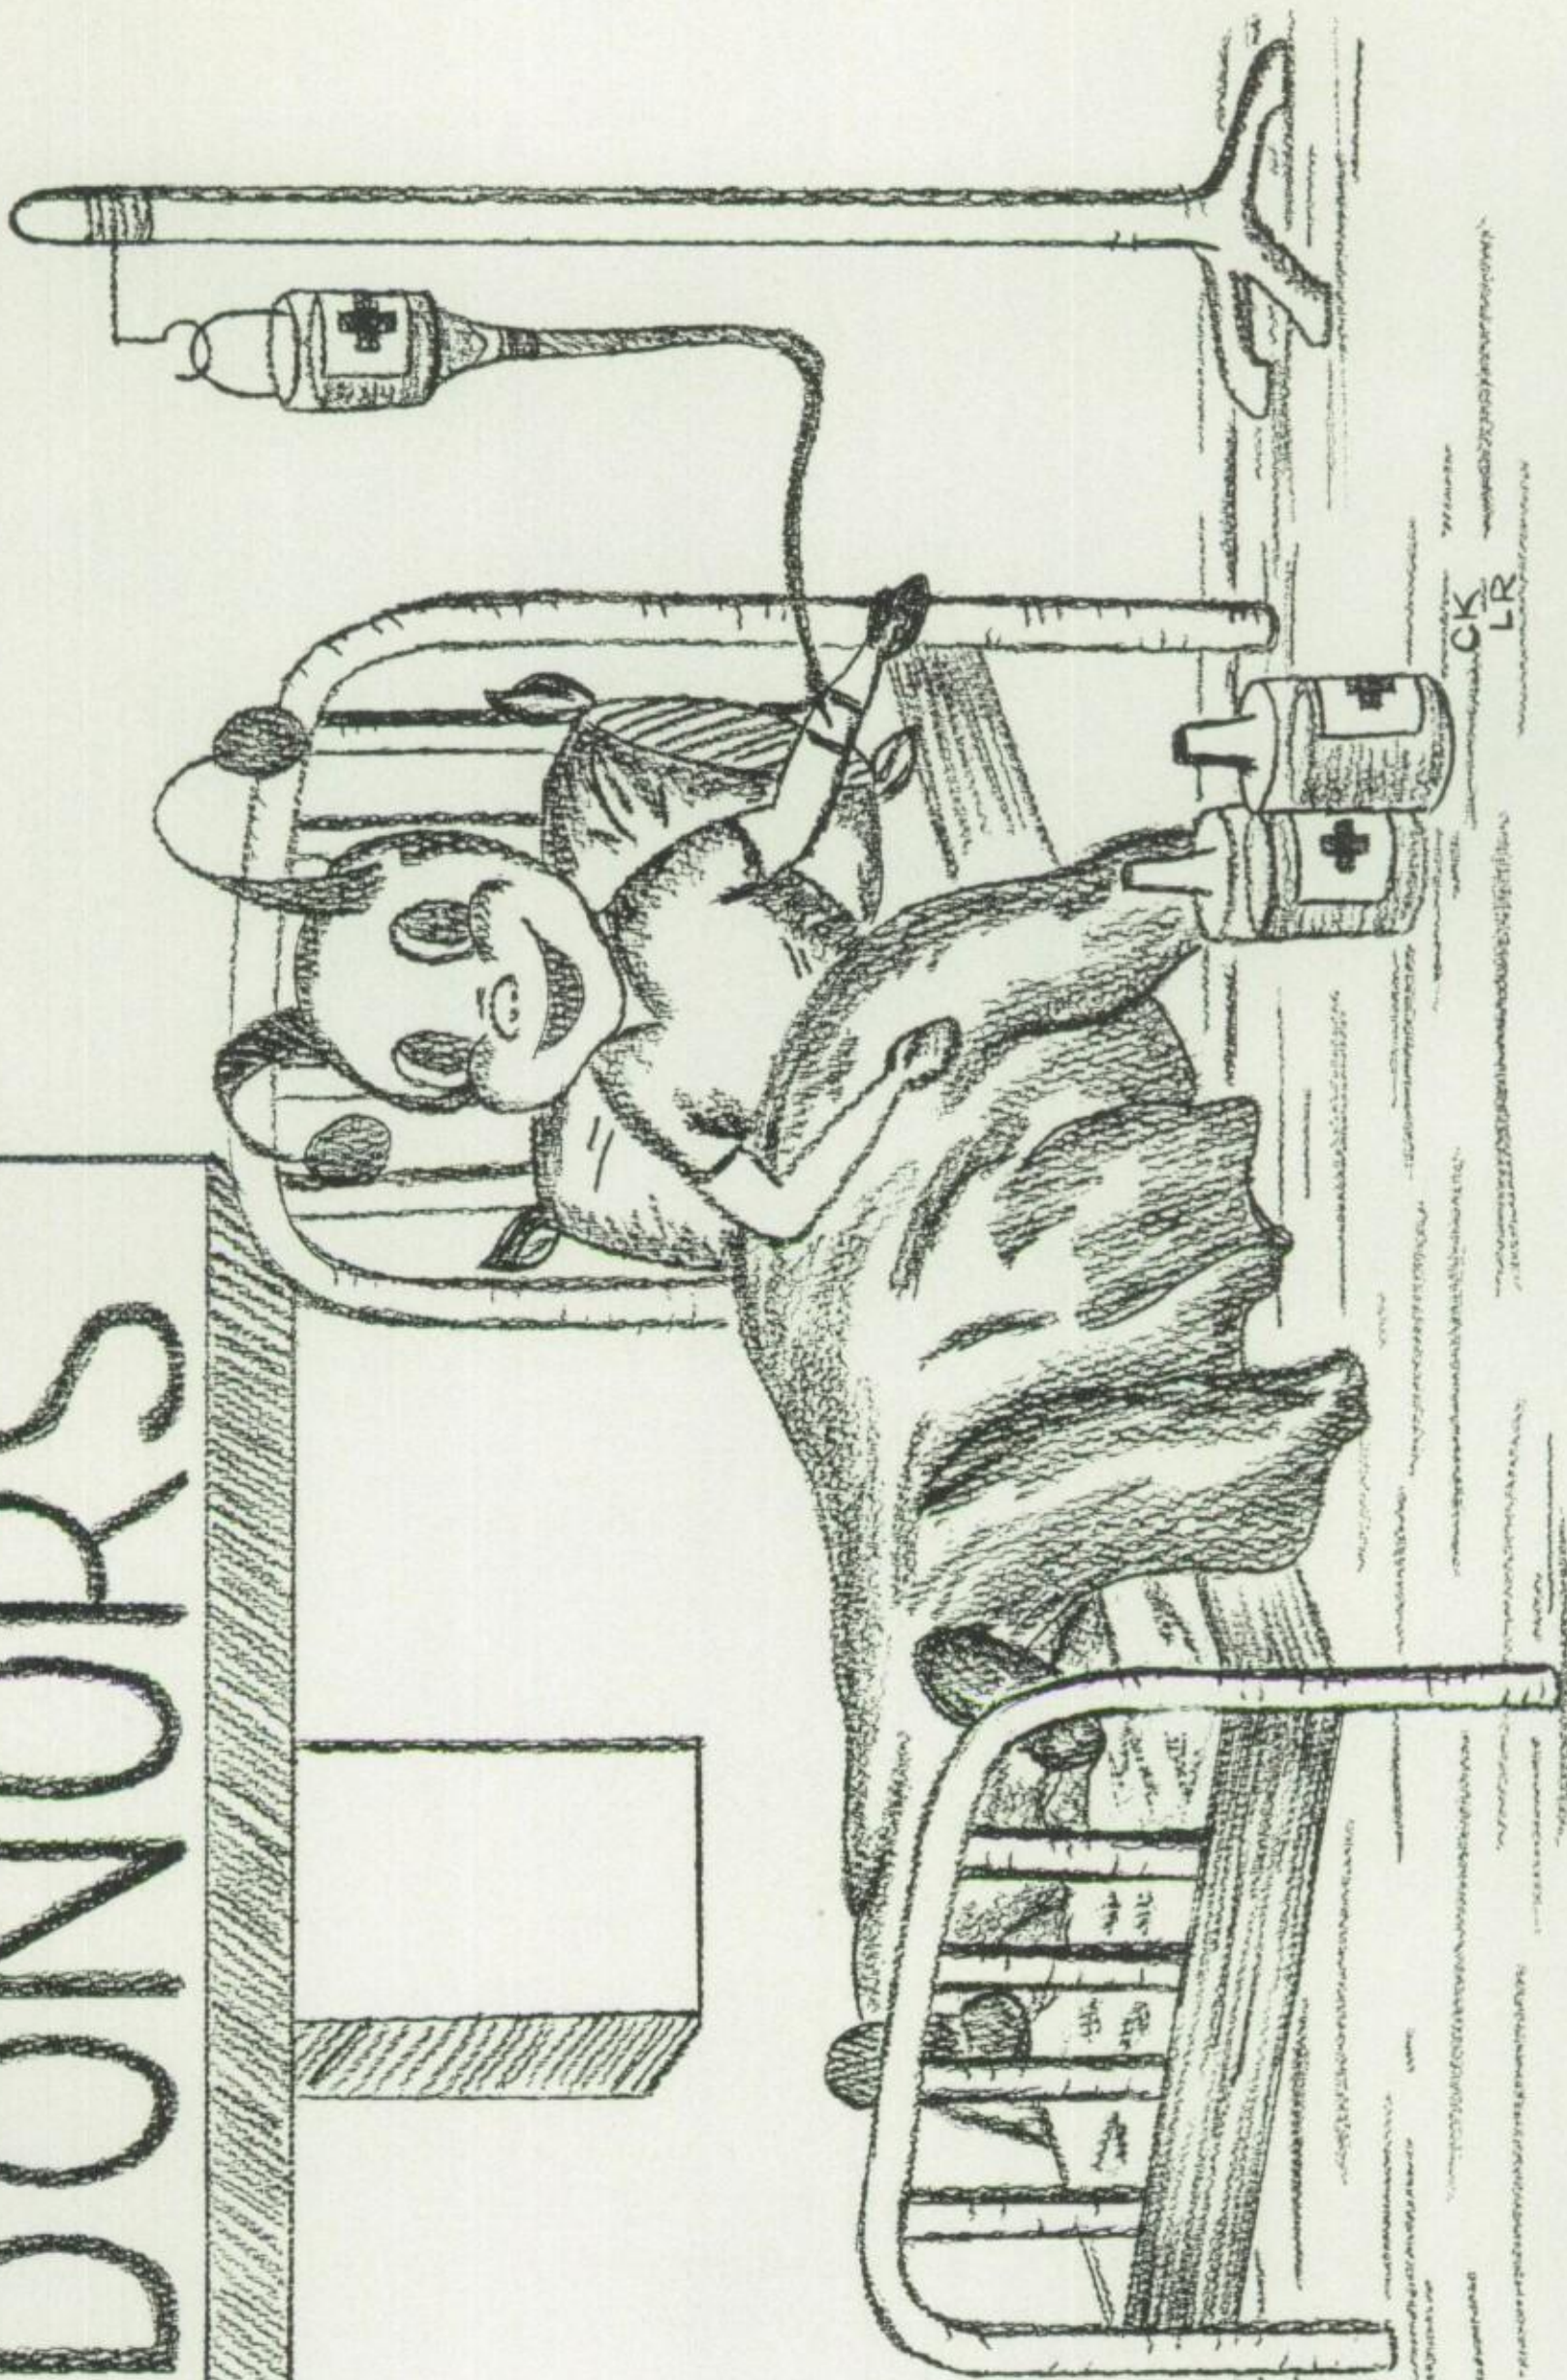

The Prom

Sayonara, a Japanese farewell, was the grand beginning of final activities for last year's seniors. This semi-formal, sponsored by the Student Council, was the first to be held in the school gymnasium. With the help of many skillful hands, the gym was transformed into an Oriental garden. Entranced couples, when not seated at cafe tables, encircled the floor. A unique fountain served as the center of attention with its ever-changing colored waters. Fascinating flower designs, dangling mobiles, curious Japanese lanterns, and Stan Keiser's Orchestra complemented the Oriental atmosphere.

Crowning the King and Queen was the climax of the perfect evening. King Arthur (Edelman) and Queen Joan (Wunderler) headed the comely court comprised of Charles Wogenrich, Robert Kern, Frank Herzog, James Bankos, Marjorie Kochenash, Christine Sharkazy, Lynette Roberts, Earlene White, and their dates for this gala affair.

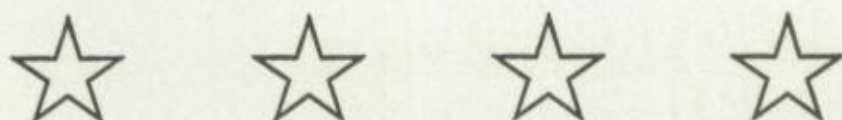

At the stroke of midnight "Sayonara" ended only to become a part of long-lasting memories of another senior prom.
